About the Adjudicator

THE ADJUDICATOR, Bonnie Walker, is an American who in the early stages of her career trained for ballet under Theodore Kasloff, then went to "stock" musical comedy and later the legitimate theatre. During the war, Bonnie Walker served with the American Red Cross in New Zealand where she maintained her interest in "little" theatre. After settling in Australia, Bonnie Walker worked in two productions with the Independant Theatre following which she declined a number of radio and television offers. Through Miss Dorothy Helmrich, she became interested in the work of the Arts Council and readily accepted the position of adjudicator when it offered.
